Wireframes - Gamer Profile

The wireframe illustrates a Gamer Profile page with the following sections:

- Bio: Includes a placeholder profile picture, fields for Name & Surname and Location, and a Bio text area with placeholder text. Buttons for Edit profile and Share Profile are present.
- Game Stats: A summary section titled "Section Name" featuring five circular icons with statistics: 200+ Followers, 100+ Game Hours, 2 Game Reviews, 2 Games Completed, and 1 Platform Used.
- My Games: A section titled "My Games" with a dropdown menu set to "Last Edited". It displays three game cards, each with a placeholder developer name, a large gray placeholder image, and a row of five stars. Below each card are Game Name, Game Hours, and a timestamp (11:23:56). The cards are identical in layout.
- Game Completion: A section titled "Game Completion" with a dropdown menu set to "Last Played". It lists six games with their names and progress bars indicating completion percentages: Game Name (25%), Game Name (50%), Game Name (100%), Game Name (0%), Game Name (50%), and Game Name (100%).

The top navigation bar includes links for Home, Games, Profile (highlighted), Community, and buttons for Sign Up and Register.

Wireframes - Community

This wireframe illustrates a community section of a social networking platform. At the top, a navigation bar includes links for Home, Games, Profile, and Community, with the Community tab currently active. Below the navigation is a search bar labeled "Find friends".

The main content area features a "My Friends" section with three user profiles displayed in a grid. Each profile card includes a placeholder image, the user's name and surname, their handle (@wonder_world), and recent activity information (e.g., 200+ Followers, 100+ Hours, 2 Games Completed). A "Unollow" button is present under each profile. To the right of the first two profiles is a "See all" link.

Below the friends section is a "Featured Community" section, also displaying three community profiles in a grid. These profiles show placeholder data (e.g., 200+ Followers, 100+ Hours, 2 Games Completed) and a "Follow" button at the bottom. To the right of the first two profiles in this section is a "See all" link.

On the left side of the main content area, there is a sidebar titled "Recent Activity" which lists three user profiles with placeholder images, names, and activity times (all 20 min ago).

Wireframes - Rate Flow

The wireframe illustrates a user interface for adding a game and rating it. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for Home, Games (which is the active tab), Profile, and Community, along with Sign Up and Register buttons. The main heading "Add your game and rate it" is displayed prominently. On the left, a section titled "About Game" contains fields for Game Name (with placeholder "Type game name here") and Game Developer (with placeholder "Type game developer here"). Below this is a field for "How Many Hours Have You Played?" with the value "00:00:00". A dropdown menu titled "What platform do you use?" lists various platforms: PC, PS3, PS4, PS5, Xbox One, XBox X, XBox S, Switch, Steamdeck, Wii, WiiU, Mobile, and Other, with "Other" being the selected option. A text input field for "Type your platform here" is also present. In the middle section, there is a "Rate Game" area where users can give a rating out of 5 stars. A text input field for "Write a bit of your experience thus far" is located below the rating section. At the bottom, there are "Cancel" and "Save" buttons.
